THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 24 day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them at the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman,
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

The tramp law remains with us, and the tramps can "git."

The Democrats have plenty of time to keep still. They have no booms to attract their attention.

The Madison papers are assailing regarding the success of the biennial resolution in the Assembly, as Granbery Park is on the question of the Presidency.

Caucus dictation has been a curse to the Democratic party. It has led it to many defeats, and the Republicans in the East should profit by the example.

General Grant would achieve a mighty victory and draw out the loud applause of the nation, if he would quickly sit down on the so-called boom in Pennsylvania.

A pretty thorough canvass of the State of New York is said to reveal the fact that a majority of the Republican voters in that State are favorable to Blaine. The third term is not strongly endorsed.

It has been said that when things are at the worst they are the soonest mended.
The Democrats have been "at the worst" a good many times, and are at present, but they never undertake to do any mending.

There is nothing that will more securely keep the Republican ship to its moorings than a frank, fair, and intelligent expression on the part of the members of the party. It has had a shining record; it has done noble deeds; it has made brilliant achievements; and to-day it has grand opportunities which it cannot afford to throw away. It should yield to no cut-and-dried caucus rule, should not countenance packed caucuses, but should be ready to rise to the height of the demand made upon it.

There will not be harmony in the Pennsylvania delegation to the Republican National Convention. At Chester the Republicans held a meeting and adopted strong resolutions opposing the gag rule of Don Cameron, and binding themselves not to bend the neck at his command. As much as harmony is desired in the party and in the National Convention, it is not a good policy to sacrifice manhood in following the beck of such a politician as Cameron; and those of the Pennsylvania delegation who desire to vote untrammelled and to act in the premises according to the dictates of their conscience, will be sustained by the best element in the party. Heretofore the Republican party has been the party of independent thought, of intelligence, and of square dealing, and it should not abandon these principles at this time.

As a piece of moral cowardice, the conduct of one William S. Marshall, of Middletown, Ohio, is supreme. He was the cashier of a bank in that place for more than fifteen years, had acquired a good reputation and some property. Recently he had befriended an orphan girl in Middletown by giving her a little money, and seeing that she did not suffer want.
This fact became known, and at once slander started on foot and followed him every step he took. The matter was publicly talked about, and at last he laid the whole matter before the bank directors, and before the church to which he belonged. Investigations quickly followed, and he was fully exonerated. But this did not arrest the slander, nor seal the lips of those who were bent on blackmailing. Instead of facing the world and public sentiment like a brave and honest man, he cowered beneath the threatening letters he received and quickly abandoned the town. He conveyed all his real estate to his wife, and converted all his securities into cash, provided his family with ample means for their support, and came to Milwaukee to seek a new home and a new business. He lacked the moral courage to bear his heart to the darts of slander, and practically surrendered to the villains who attempted his ruin. Here is where Marshall made his mistake. He should have defied their threats and walked the streets of Middletown like a man of honest heart and noble courage, and it would not have been long before his slanderers and those who sought to rob him both of his money and his good name, would have quit the field. It is upon the men who have not the moral courage to face these villainous importunities, that the black-mailing vampires feed.

THE BIENNIAL SESSION RESOLUTION.

It seems pretty certain that the joint resolution to amend the Constitution so as to provide for biennial sessions of the Legislature, will be adopted. The resolution which originated in the Assembly has been ordered engrossed and read a third time, which is equivalent to an adoption. When it is considered that the vote on this question was almost unanimous, there can be no doubt that it will finally be adopted by the same vote in the Assembly, and its strong endorsement there will contribute much to its success in the Senate. Should this resolution to submit to the people a proposed amendment to the Constitution, be adopted, it will be one of the most practical measures ever adopted by the Legislature, for there can be no doubt that the people by an overwhelming majority, will vote to amend the Constitution. When this question came up before the Senate bore the responsibility of defeating the resolution.

It must not repeat that action. It is not for either branch of the Legislature to say whether or not there shall be biennial sessions. That question is for the people to decide, and all the Legislature has to do is to adopt the joint resolution which will give the voters an opportunity to say something on the subject. If they decide it is not best to adopt biennial sessions, then the consequences rest with them, and the Legislature will have done its duty.

The resolution as adopted by the Assembly provides that the members of the Legislature shall each receive five hundred dollars for each session which is equal to two hundred and fifty dollars a year. They will be allowed mileage, stationery and news papers as now. One important point was omitted in the resolution, and that is, the length of the session should be limited, say to sixty or seventy days. This is practical, and while the Assembly was about it, it should have seen that some limit of the length of the session was provided for.
There can be no argument against this feature of the resolution. All the work there is for the Legislature to do even should be biennial sessions be adopted, can be done in two months at least. One of the principal objections to the biennial sessions, is that when the Legislature meets only once in two years, the sessions will be prolonged, so that in the end biennial sessions will not be as economical as annual sessions. There are now thirty States out of the thirty-eight in the Union that hold biennial sessions of the Legislature, and twenty of those limit the length of the sessions. In the States of Illinois, Michigan, and Iowa, where there is no limit, the sessions are moderate in length considering the amount of business to be transacted, and even without this provision they have economical sessions, and there comes from these States, and all others that have adopted biennial sessions, that any attempt to return to annual sessions would be met with determined opposition, and would be overwhelmingly defeated. It will be remembered that this question was tested in Michigan in April, 1868, as stated to the Gazette by Governor Crawford, a few weeks ago, and the proposition to adopt annual sessions was defeated by a majority of 75,832.

The Wisconsin Assembly has done its duty, now let the Senate follow the example. The question is one of importance, and it is one upon which there is not room for a division of sentiment. All the Legislature is asked to do is to permit the people to decide whether or not there shall be biennial sessions, and should the Senate refuse that righteous and reasonable request, it will cover itself with shame.

A SLEEPLESS MAN.

A Marlborough Farmer Who Lived Nearly Twelve Years Without Sleep.

Thomas McElrath has for a number of years lived about a mile west of Marlborough, New York. He is a farmer in good circumstances, as also a cultivator of berries. The strange peculiarity of Mr. Mc-Elrath is that for twelve years he has not slept a wink. He tried everything to get the drowsy god, but to no purpose. Medicines of various kinds were unavailing, and the sleepless berry grower of Marlborough was the wonder for miles around.
A few years ago an account of his remarkable case was published, and was copied by newspapers throughout the land. Mr.
McElrath at that time offered a large sum of money to any one who would make him sleep. He received offers and advice through the mails from patent medicine venders and leading physicians throughout the United States and Canada. One San Francisco man was positive he could "fix him" but he didn't.

The long, weary nights passed on, month after month, but Mr. McElrath slept none.
Some persons insinuated that he slumbered and was not aware of the fact. His family and neighbors sat up night after night and watched, but "not a wink of sleep did Thomas have." The fact that Mr. Mc-Elrath remained in good health, and gained weight instead of lost flesh, and continued to work hard daily throughout the summer season, was something that philosophers and physicians alike could not explain.
McElrath was indeed a phenomenon, and his case without a parallel. He was positive that he did not sleep, and invited investigations of last fall, and continued to
season, was something that philosophers
and physicians alike could not explain.

CARHART'S TRIAL.

Oshkosh, Feb. 10.—The trial of the Rev. J. W. Carhart, of this city, on charges preferred by the Rev. G. C. Haddock, of Milwaukee, began in the First M. E. Church to-day. The charges presented include some seventy-two specifications, but quite a number were stricken out. Complainant and defendant are represented by counsel composed of ministers of the Wisconsin Conference. The Rev. J. M. Walker, of Wau-paca, conducts the investigation. The charges preferred include financial irregularity, false misrepresentation, and general bad conduct not becoming a minister of the gospel. It is expected the trial will last a week or more, as the prosecution will introduce witnesses to prove his associations and also depositions of parties who could not attend the trial.

REX'S REIGN.

Mardi Gras Festivities at New Orleans a Great Success.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—Rex arrived yesterday, and was received royally. The procession included a body guard of United States troops and the local military. The procession to-day moved according to programme, first came the band of the royal household, then the Assyrian warriors driven in chariots followed by generals, priests, astrologers and other attaches, then in a gorgeous chariot came Rex, as Shamshamer the Assyrian conqueror. The royal chariot was closely followed by his majesty's favorite band of the Thirteenth Infantry and royal division of troops. The pageant proper came next in the shape of twenty magnificent cars, representing the four elements of creation. Then came a burlesque of the Leifertafel and the Phry-gian Phyllis and miscellaneous mask-ers. The streets along the line of the procession were crowded with spectators.
Thousands of strangers are in the city.
The Rex reception at the Exposition Hall to-night is a great success. Five thousand persons are present.

The procession of the Mystic Krewes of Comus to-night was illustrated with phases in the history of the Aztec people and their conquest by Cortez by sixteen tableaux on exhibition. The procession closed with tableaux at the Opera house and a grand ball, which was attended by 2,000 people. It was a magnificent affair.

THE WHITE HOUSE.

A Brilliant Entertainment Given by the President and Mrs. Hayes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The entertainment to-night at the White House was a very brilliant affair, about 700 invitations were issued, reading thus: "The President and Mrs. Hayes request the pleasure of yourself and the ladies of your family on Tuesday evening, to meet the members of the Diplomatic Corps." All the rooms in the White House were thrown open, and for three hours the large and brilliant company thronged through the rooms and corridors, which were ablaze with light and very beautifully decorated with flowers. The whole company were served with lunch. At 11 o'clock the guests began leaving. The generally expressed opinion is that there was never a more brilliant gathering in the White House.

DAIRYMEN.

Meeting of the Northwestern Dairymen's Association.

HARVARD, Feb. 10.—This afternoon the Northwestern Dairymen's Association began its fourteenth annual meeting in this city. Judge Ayer, of Howard, delivered the welcome address, to which a response was given by George E. Gooch, of Chicago, W. D. Hoard, of Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin, made the president's address. A paper on "Success in Dairying" was read by Charles R. Beach, of Whitewater, Wis. In the discussion upon "Practical Bacter Shaking," J. E.
Wagoner, of Oshkosh, Ill., Israel Boise, of Davis Junction, Ill., Stephen Paville, of Lake Mills, Charles R. Beach, and Hiram Smith, of Sheboygan Falls, participated. The following were appointed by the chair as committees: On Finance, S. W.
Kingsley, of W. La Crosse, J. D. Dugan, of E.
Sheldon, and N. W. Morley. Committee on amusements, Israel Boise, S. W. Kingsley, S. Paville, George C. Lawrence, and D. W. Curtis. Committee on resolutions, S. Paville, George Lawrence, P.
S. Lucas, Hiram Smith, C. S. Kilbourne, G.
P. Lord, C. Beach, Geo. Gooch, R. M. Litter, and S. Paville were appointed a committee to see what can be done in relation to oleomargarine, its manufacture and sale.

INTERRUPTED.

The Patty House Lottery Scheme Interrupted by United States Officials.
MILWAUKEE, Feb. 10.—The Patty house, in the neighborhood city of Fond du Lac, has long ranked among the first hotels in the State, and its proprietors, the Patty brothers, are prominent and influential men in the city where they reside. The name of George J. Blythe, and also General Ed S. Bragg, of Fond du Lac; Hon. Philetus Sawyer, of Oshkosh, and Mr. A. R. Baker, of are each and severally somewhat known to fame. It has been often wondered how so magnificent a hotel as the Patty house could pay expenses in a town like Fond du Lac, and so no surprise was manifested when it became known that the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Milwaukee, held a $30,000 mortgage upon the hotel; but it was something of a cause for surprise when but a short time ago, it was advertised that a grand gift concert would take place in Fond du Lac, and that the principal prize in a rich drawing of $300,000 was nothing less than the celebrated Patty house. The advertisements to show how square the thing was were scattered all over the city, and the concert was conducted under the eagle and honest eye of gentlemen like Congressman Bragg, ex-Congressman Philetus Sawyer, and others of equal reputation. Then the lotteries, it is alleged, began to pour in, and everybody wanted a chance to go into the hotel business by drawing a lot of equipment in a lottery. It is said that about $100,000 worth of tickets have already been sold. However, a few days ago a United States special postoffice agent was out this way, and got a glimpse of an advertisement of the grand gift concert. Then he examined the tickets, and discovered that the lottery circulars had been mailed. The next thing was to order the arrest of Messrs John R. Patty, George Patty, and George J. Blythe, on the charge of using the United States mails for unlawful and fraudulent purposes. So this morning at Fond du Lac the gentlemen were arrested and have been brought to this city for a preliminary examination.

The matter, because of the prominence of all the parties creates a good deal of interest. Present appearances indicate that the government intends to prosecute the case in grim earnest. Of course the ticket holders will wonder how they are to get their money back.

The Messrs. Patty and Blythe waived examination and were held to bail in the sum of $1,000 each. Mr. White, the United States special agent, estimates that the concern has already received $47,000, and stated that he did not believe it was ever intended the drawing should take place.

ITS ORIGIN.

ALBANY, Feb. 10.—The city hall was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. When the dome fell several men were crushed, one or two of them seriously. It is hinted that the blaz was of incendiary origin, and that it was intended to cover up evidence of crookedness in city and county affairs. Many of the public records were lost.

The loss is estimated at $75,000 with insurance at $15,000.

QUITE GENEROUS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Hayes has, with the approval of the cabinet, directed that Major Reno, recently court-martialled and sentenced to dismissal, be permitted to resign his commission in the army.

THE SUPREME COURT.

MADISON, Feb. 18.—The Supreme Court has adjourned until the 24th inst when the following cases will be called for argument: Nos. 3, 45, 49, 105, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, and State Nos. 6, 9, and 11.

INDIGESTION IN COWS.

Will Dr. Horne please tell me what to do for my cows. They all seem out of condition. The hair is rough, some of them bloat occasionally but not bad. They let up on their milk quite considerably lately.
They cut just kind of middling. I have fed some oat straw quite full of chaff. What is the trouble?

Reply.—The trouble is, beyond question, indigestion.

Remedy.—Give better food, and plenty of it to begin with. Give to each afflicted cow one (1) oz. of fluid extract of Golden Lead (Hydriate of Canadensis) and one of good tincture of ginger, in four (4) ounces of rain water. Give about twice a week from a bottle, whilst the head is well held up by a second person. There will be no need of any further treatment.
Perhaps you expose your poor cows to the weather. If you do, you are highly reprehensible, and before you can expect a change for the better, you must house them properly. Common humanity should prompt you to do this.

Footville, July 28, 1880.
Quoted.—This is a cold two years old, which had the distemper in December last.
He seemed to have it lightly. About three weeks ago, after discharging for several weeks, it heated up. Now a bunch has formed on the side of the jaw; the bunch is quite hard; it seems to remain in about the same condition. The cow seems well otherwise, and eats well. Will you please tell me the nature of the disease, and a remedy. It is not different to the regular form of strangles, or colts distemper.

CHARLES S. SHANNON.
Edgerton, February 7, 1880.

Reply.—Judging from your statement, I should incline to believe the abscess healed too quickly, before it had fully reduced the tumor or swelling. Besides this, I am afraid some of the pus remained. This would be more than likely to produce the strangles, as mentioned. I think there is no doubt your colt had the regular strangles—so called, which from some reason or other, did not properly run its course.
This may have been the result of neglect to properly cleanse and dress the abscess with a proper digestive stimulant. It may be the result of other causes, from which one in particular, is to blame. Some cases are much more difficult than others.
Some require quite different treatment in some respects, but all require strong stimulants and tonics and After febrile symptoms, is past.

Remedy.—This is rather a difficult task.
To give a popular remedy requires in such cases as yours, a personal examination, but I will do the best I can for you. Cut the hair off close from the portions of the jaw which is all enlarged. Procure strong tincture of iodine, and paint all over the enlargement several times a day, you will have to persevere in this for several weeks, and four times a day, one day, and none the next will not do, the painting over, must be followed up quite regularly to accomplish good results—besides this, give internally every morning twenty (20) grains of iodine of potash. You can administer either in food or water. Feed generously —after two weeks of this treatment there should be no evidence of improvement, you will please apply again, and we will change the treatment entirely.

Just Look Here!

Catarrhal

POISON!

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh explains the following important facts:

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a possible infection, at first local, and finally constitutional.

2. That, being Constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.

3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach, and thence into the blood, the poison of the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.

4. That Catarrhal virus follows the man-dible membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, Bronchitis, Leucor-rhea, and Consumption.

5. That smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Isolable Snuffs, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.

6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an incombustible ability for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucus wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr.

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1880.

MILTON.

—Smith & Davidson shipped a carload of live hogs to Chicago, on Monday.

—Prof. H. D. Mason has sold his house in this village to Mr. Seaver, and Miss Mistle Sweet, a non-resident, has sold her house on College Avenue, to Mr. Press.

—The village property seems to be in better demand than it was a year ago, an indication that times are better, and that our village is looking up.

—Our ice men made a break, Monday, and the road between the village and Stora Lake was filled with ice tears.

—Williams, McNitt, Burdick and Hudson were at work, and their houses will all be filled this week. The ice is about nine inches thick.

—Ben House met with an unfortunate accident in this village, Monday. He was riding on the reach of his wagon, and in some way fell backwards. His foot, caught, dragging him some distance and finally the wheel ran over his head.

He landed into the drug store of W. P. Clarke, and wanted assistance, but when he found that the scalp was torn away from the left side of the skull for about four inches he concluded to let out the job. Since will have a cure cranium for some weeks to come.

—The meetings are being continued this week at the Congregational church but the attendance is decreasing.

—Doctor Stout, of Albion, who is a cancer doctor, is in town this week. He is treating Fitch Brown, who has a cancer on the lower lip, and Mr. Yeomans, who has one on his cheek. Both gentlemen are rather eager to endure the pain incident to such operations.

—Hon. Wm. O. Whitford, State Superintendent, came to this place Saturday evening, and delivered a lecture in the Baptist church on "The influence of our schools on the formation of the character of the pupils." The lecture was an excellent one and was listened to with close attention. Sunday morning, Mr. Whitford preached in Pastor's hall to the Advent church, and in the evening at the Union Services in the Congregational church. Both sermons were able efforts.—Broadleaf Independent 6th inst.

SHOPIKKE.

—Ice packing is being hurriedly carried on for fear the ice will take a furlough.

—The Kemmerer Brothers threshed thirty bushels of clover seed in one-half day last week.

—Mr. George Shaw, accompanied by his nephew, George, took the train, Monday, for Chicago, en route to Leadville, Colorado. Mr. Shaw and Mr. Cheney leave many friends in this vicinity who wish them prosperity.

—Mr. Wm. Schenck, of Nebraska, is visiting his many friends in this vicinity.

—The letter of Mr. Henry White, a few days in our village, last week, the guest of Mrs. Thomas Day.

—Betsy and Shes cheap at Adams store.

—Miss Jennie Smith has gone to Appleton to visit a brother and sister.

—Mrs. Danison Holmes accidentally cut her thumb off while cutting a piece of meat with an ax the other day.

—Miss Cuckoo has made arrangements to entertain her pupils at her father's home on Friday evening. A pleasant time may be expected.

—Quite a little excitement was caused by a horse-thief passing through our village on Saturday morning.

—Mr. Jones, our school Superintendent, made our school a visit last week.

—A barn belonging to Mr. W. Sathers, on the farm better known as the Dodge place, was entirely consumed by fire last Sunday night. The only building near is a house, unoccupied, therefore it is supposed to be the work of incendiarism.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, spent a couple of days in Chicago, last week.

—Mrs. Klime, who has been sick for some time, is much better.

—Miss Clara Tarrant, who is attending school in Milton, spent the Sabbath at home.

—Miss Emma Chamberlain is teaching school in S. S. North's district.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—On Friday morning last about 3 o'clock the house of Wm. B. Rice, about 2 miles west of this village and half a mile south of Kinder's Corners, took fire and burned to the ground. It was quite a large frame house, with a large cellar stone walled under the whole house. About 3 o'clock in the morning, Mrs. Rice was awakened by a suffocating sensation and the smell of smoke was strong in the house. Finding none in the upper portion of the house, Mr. Rice, who was a hard sleeper, was awakened, and on opening the cellar door a volume of hot smoke and flames burst into the room showing that to be the seat of the fire, which was already under such headway as to render it impossible to fight it.

With bare feet and only their night robes on they made haste to save such articles of furniture as was handiest, but in doing so Mr. Rice froze both his feet, besides burning them so that he has to hobble about with a cane. The fire was without doubt the work of an incendiary as there was no fire in the house at the time. We understand there was about $300 insurance on the house and furniture. The house was nicely furnished and the loss on both was considerable.

—Mr. Ley B. Peck sold his tobacco a few days since, which weighed 2,170 pounds to the acre.

—There was a dancing party at Morgan's hall on Thursday night last. The well disposed portion of which was much annoyed by the presence and persistent rowdyish behavior of a pair of young men, not gentlemen, whose presence at parties, lectures, concerts and even social meetings for some years past has been a constant source of annoyance and regret to all well disposed persons. Is it not time they were subside as public nuisances?

—The young friends of Mr. James Stockman, son of John Stockman, Esq., gave him a birthday party at his father's residence on Friday evening last in honor of his having arrived at the age of his majority. He was the recipient of numerous presents, among which was a fine silver watch and gold chain from his father.

—Dr. James E. Cuskey returned from Chicago last week. He is suffering from a severe cold and will not return to finish the course at present. He reports 500 students now attending lectures at Rush college.

—Mr. Charles Badger, of Geneva, has been spending a few days in town shaking hands with old acquaintances.

—Farmers who have indulged in the hopeful prospect of a large acreage of winter wheat are destined to be disappointed, as the winter is proving the most damaging and unpropitious that could be imagined for that crop.

—Oaks Bros concert troupe holds forth at Morgan's hall on Tuesday of this week. They will doubtless be greeted with a full house, as their reputation here is second to none, except the Clement Bros, whose popularity in their line excels all others who have visited this point.

A Pleasant Remedy for Toothache.

From the Baltimore Practitioner.

"Our cook," says T. C. O'Brien, M. D., Greenough, Ala., "procured heretofore to me with a sawtooth comb, asking for something to relieve the toothache, from which she had been suffering all night, and for which she refused to have the tooth extracted. As there was nothing of the usual kind at hand, I was on the point of telling her to get up and go to bed, or go to a dentist, when it occurred to my mind that there was in the house a vial of compound tincture of benzoin, which I had been using upon a young mother as a protection against sore nipples.

After cleansing the decayed tooth, I saturated a pledget of cotton lint with the tincture and packed it well into the cavity, hoping this would suffice for the time, and bidding her come back in two or three hours if she was not relieved. I was turning away when she remarked it might not be necessary, perhaps, as the pain was already gone. Supposing her faith had a large share in the relief, I would not allow myself to think the medicine had anything to do with the cure any more than so much hot water would have done.

But when I arrived in my office there were two other patients awaiting me with the same affliction, and I determined by way of experiment, to use the same remedy. To my agreeable surprise both patients declared themselves immediately relieved, and begged a vial of the tincture for further use.

During the winter a number similar cases applied, and were instantly relieved through the same treatment, all expressing very much satisfaction with the remedy.

In December I told my druggist of the discovery, and recommended him to sell it to any person applying for toothache drops. This, he reports, he has done, and that every one seemed delighted with the medicine.
